Brief CV: Stuart L. Fischman, D.M.D. is Professor Emeritus of Oral Diagnostic Sciences. He has recently retired as Director of Dentistry at the Erie County Medical Center and continues to coordinate the oral health care program for the AIDS Designated Center at the ECMC. He received his D.M.D. degree, cum laude, from the Harvard School of Dental Medicine. He has been named a "Distinguished Alumnus" of the Harvard School of Dental Medicine. Dr. Fischman is a Diplomate of the American Boards of Oral Pathology and Oral Medicine. He has held academic appointments in Paraguay, Peru, Bolivia, Puerto Rico, and Israel. Professor Fischman has been a Lady Davis Fellow and a Forcheimer Fellow at the Hebrew University in Jerusalem. He received the 1998 Clinical Excellence Award from the N.Y. State AIDS Institute. Current research activities include the clinical evaluation of dentifrices and mouth rinses, the management of ulcerative diseases of the oral mucosa and the oral manifestations of HIV disease. The oral health profile of patients with Gaucher disease is currently being reviewed. Professor Fischman serves as a consultant to several manufacturers of oral health products and to the New York State AIDS Institute.
